

I AM LIVING THE DREAM

My name is Shannon Carrier and I am a grateful, recovering addict. My sobriety date is November 28 of 2004. I have had 20 years of active addiction from alcohol to heroin. Due to my addiction, I lost my sanity, my freedom, jobs, children, family members, self-worth, free will and respect. I was my own worst enemy.

Since I've been clean and sober, I now have a relationship with my children and family members. I am engaged to be married. I own a spiritual recovery home for women call the House of Hope. I have full-time employment. I meditate and do a lot of praying. I attend AA/NA meetings daily. I am on the committee for Greater Macomb Project Vox.

I am living the dream of being drug and alcohol free.

Peacefully Living,

Shannon Carrier
